

At #NeoCon10: Vox Monogram Modular System by Nienkämper

By Sonja Hall on Tuesday, June 8th, 2010

As human beings, we have come a long way with our constant need to be better than we are. It usually works too, advancing from from caves and spears to pulleys and wheels, etc. Naturally, although we still have this desire to improve ourselves and our surroundings, it can often feel as though the new inventions nowadays are ways to make our society lazier.
